

NFPA 70E Electrical Safety Training

Course Description

ESCO's Electrical Safety Training Program was developed in-house to train our electricians to the latest NFPA 70E standards and has since expanded to serve customers and industry partners. In this course, participants will gain a broad understanding of electrical safety principles, hazard awareness, and best practices for working safely around energized equipment.

Learning Outcomes

- Understand Arc Flash, Arc Blast and Shock hazards
- Understand what PPE to use and when
- Understand Arc Flash Labels and requirements
- Know the difference between Qualified and Unqualified person
- Selection and precautions of multimeters
- LOTO requirements
- Hazard Risk Assessments for Shock and Arc Flash hazards
- Understand Insulated tools and shielding materials

Details

Duration: 4 Hour, 5 Hour & 8 Hour Class Option

Delivery Options: Training can be conducted at ESCO's facility or hosted at your location

Cost: Utilize ESCO's copy of the NFPA 70E for the class at $295.00 per attendee OR Purchase a new copy of the NFPA 70E standard to utilize and keep after the class at $435.00 per attendee

Pricing may vary for training conducted at your facility*

Sign Up and Learn More, with ESCO Power & Safety
www.ESCOPowerandSafety.com